Introduction

Overview of the NEMS Capability

The National Emergency Management Agency (NEMA) has established an ongoing NEMS capability to enhance the Australian Government's ability to better support the states and territories during a crisis.

The NEMS capability consists of:

- A national stockpile of Australian Government-owned disaster goods, including a seasonal strategic reserve of single-use consumables;
    - Including a system for the management of the stockpiled goods;
- A standing offer panel to facilitate the purchase of critical goods and services to support state and territory government responses to crises;
    - This includes a pool of disaster management specialists and non-government owned equipment which can be contracted to be available in higher risk weather season;
- Strategic partnerships with other Australian Government humanitarian and crisis response capabilities.

What is the role of the NEMS Panel?

The NEMS Panel has been set up to enable the efficient purchase of goods and services to create and replenish a stockpile of Commonwealth-owned disaster response and relief goods and services.

The NEMS Panel supports prevention and preparedness activities, through facilitating the purchase of emergency management goods and services that are ready to deploy in the event of a disaster. The NEMS Panel is accessible to authorised Australian Government, state and territory and local government agencies.

The NEMS Panel uses an often-open approach which allows NEMA to go back to industry – at any time over the life of the Panel – to tender for new or different products and services and enable new or existing entrants to the market to apply for a position on the Panel.

This Panel makes responding to and recovering from emergencies and disasters that much more effective.

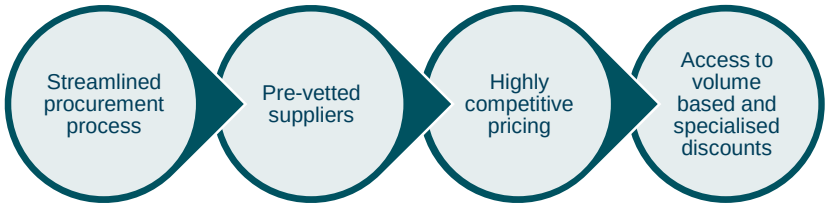

This catalogue does not provide pricing information for any of the goods or services offered through the Panel. Pricing information is only available to entities who are admitted as Customers to the Panel.

This catalogue will only be updated with new suppliers and their goods and services offerings as they are added to the Panel.

Aspen Medical

Aspen Medical is an Australian-owned company that delivers comprehensive healthcare solutions across the full spectrum of health services, infrastructure and technology.

We operate in challenging environments—remote, under-resourced and high-risk—and work globally with governments, industries and communities to address urgent needs and contribute to long-term health outcomes.

Our work spans the delivery of essential health services, development and management of critical health infrastructure and integration of technologies to improve access, quality and efficiency in care. Whether establishing health programs in underserved regions, responding to health emergencies or supporting system-wide improvements, our approach is always outcomes-focused and grounded in cultural safety, clinical governance and reliability.

Since our founding in 2003, Aspen Medical has evolved from a Canberra-based start-up to a certified B Corporation recognised for strengthening health systems worldwide. Our multidisciplinary teams, comprising clinicians, planners, technologists, project managers, logisticians and policy experts, collaborate to deliver scalable, sustainable solutions that make a meaningful impact.

At Aspen Medical, we don't just deliver care, we enhance the environments that enable health. We build partnerships, develop local capacity and support the systems that keep people well—wherever you need us.

Aspen Medical offers emergency response logistics and specialist humanitarian services.
